

Our advanced formulations are engineered to optimize manufacturing efficiency by reducing friction, minimizing defects, and ensuring smooth mold release. This results in higher productivity, improved surface quality, and extended mold life, ultimately enhancing overall product performance and consistency.

Mastering the Art of Separation

Since 1963

Lotréc AB is a leading formulator of high-performance Release Agents, specifically designed for the rubber processing industry.

Established in 1963, the Swedish company Lotréc AB has been producing high performance LUBKO® Release Agents and Mandrel Lubricants for the rubber industry.

In 2022, we expanded our global presence with the establishment of Lotréc Asia Pacific in Mumbai, serving as a regional hub for the Asia Pacific market.

LUBKO® is the solution

We Provide Tailored Solutions And Dedicated Support To Meet Your Specific Technical Requirements And Enhance Your Production Processes.

At LUBKO, we understand that release agents are critical to the success of any moulding process. That's why our solutions are engineered to boost productivity, extend mould life, and consistently deliver clean, high-quality part releases — even under demanding conditions.

Our product range is designed for easy application, minimal residue, and optimal efficiency across every cycle. With superior anti-stick performance and reduced mould buildup, you spend less time on maintenance and more time in production.

Superior Lubrication. Unmatched Reliability. Engineered to Maximize Performance and Minimize Downtime, Because Your Machinery Deserves Nothing Less

Our Solutions Include

- Traditional agents for frequent application
- Water-based and solvent-based options
- Silicone-free and eco-certified formulations
- Ready-to-use, high-solid, or concentrated formats
- Semi-permanent release agents (water- and solvent-based)

USP's

- Excellent release — even on complex moulds
- Multiple releases per application
- Minimal transfer to finished parts
- Cleaner moulds, fewer interruptions
- Exceptional surface finish, every time

Cost-Effective Solution

LUBKO Release Agents offer long-lasting performance, reducing the need for frequent reapplication and minimizingoverall operational costs.

Innovation and R&D Driven

Continuous research and development ensure LUBKO Release Agents evolve with changing industry needs, offering cutting-edge solutions that keep your manufacturing processes ahead of the curve.

NOTES

LUBKO®
Release Coating And Dry Lubricant

Founder's Quote - "When I started Lotréc, the goal was simple: create solutions that work better — not just once, but over time, under pressure, and with care for the environment. With LUBKO, we've built more than just release agents; we've built trust with manufacturers who know that precision, reliability, and responsibility can go hand in hand."
